New Appointment - Telemedicine

PATIENT LOCATION

- setting up the patient’s location is identical to setting up a standard appointment...
- ... except, while it is possible add providers to the patient’s location, it is more likely that the only providers added to the appoinement will be at the remote location. An example of why providers might be added to both would be where the pa-tient and primary care physician are at one location but wan to consult with a specialist at another.

REMOTE LOCATION

- While there is a “Location” panel intended to show location and allow Susan to define a room for the appointment, she can also any number of remote locations -- and for each she will have to define its specific location.
- Extra location only contain resources (providers, equipment, location) and have the timeslot adjusted for timezone differ-ences
- Remote locations should display thier timezone, time offset, and appointment date-time from their perspecitve.
- Neither “Providers” nor “Equipment” can be added until the specific location has been defined, because it is necessary to define this scope in order for the system to fetch the appropri-ate items.
